Murder in the First Degree. At 12:35 o'clock yesterday morning the jury in the Corporation Court brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree in the case of Howard Banks, colored, who had been indicted for the murder of Thomas Elzey, colored, on the 4th instant, in a saloon in the "Petersburg" section of the city. The jury was out witnesses had been examined. Banks simultaneous congregating in one arens was placed upon the stand. He stated that he was twenty-one years of age, and had known Elzey for the contained and had known the contained and had kn had known Elzey for the past nine years; that he purchased the pistol with which he did the shooting from a colored man named Joseph Harris; that on the night of the affair he and two other colored elephants, zebras, water buffalo, camels, men repaired to the upper story of the saloon where the tragedy occurred and consumed several pints of gin and a dzan bottles of beer. Prior to the drinking, he said, he had freely used consumer. The private a saled that he consider. The prisoner stated that he cocsine. used cocaine two or three times a week. The narcotic, gin and beer, he said, made him crazy, and he had absolutely no recollection of what happened after the shooting

Banks was put through a severe crossexamination by Commonwealth's Attor himself.

The court subsequently took a recess until 7 o'clock Saturday night. When it was again called to order a deuse crowd

Arguments were then begun and Mr. R D Brumback, who assisted Commonwealth's Attorney Brent in the prosecution of Banks, made the opening argument. He was followed by Mr. Moncure, for the defense. In the course of his argument the speaker said that to secure evidence for his client he had visited some of the dives in Alexandria, where negroes congregate, and had been appalled at what he had seen. Mr. Moncure described the conditions as similar to those that led to the Atlanta riots and predicted that Alexandria would experince a crisis of that sort unless the Petersburg section is cleaned out speedily. He blamed the police for allowing such a condition of affairs to exist.

Mr. Machen, for the defense, followed, and made a strong plea for the prisoner. He stated that there seemed to be a prejudice against the prisoner and that his rial had been unduly hastened. Mr. Machen was proceeding on this line when he was called to order by Judge Barley, who said he thought Mr. Machen had gone about far enough.

Mr. Brent closed for the prosecution in an able argument The case was finally given to the jury. While the jury was out, Judge Barley stated that the reason he had not said more to Mr. Machen when he called him to order, was that he did not wish to prejudice the jury against the prisoner. He then said that the prisoner had been given a fair trul, and bolieving Mr. Machen's remarks were unjust he requested an apology from that gentleman. Mr. Machen, after a brief statement, made the amende honorable, and the court declared that so far as he was concerned the incident was closed.

Before the jury had returned with their verdict, the court warned the spectators that no demonstrations would be allowed. There were none

After the verdict had been announced court for a new triat, on the grounds and evidence. Judge Barley fixed Octo per 29 as the date on which arguments would be heard for and against this.

Banks retired from the courtroom with a smile on his face, smoking a cigarette. This is the first instance where a jury has brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree in Alexandria since the carly part of 1892. The following affidavit was made by Mr. L. H. Machen in the Corporation Court on Friday last when he asked a continuation of the trial of Banks:

continuation of the trial of Barks:

In the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandris, Virginis.

Commonwealth of Virginia vs. Howard Banks, charged with the murder of Thomas Elecy.

This day personally appeared before me in my office in the city of Alexandris, Virginia, Lawis H. Macben, who, after being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is a membe of the firm of Machen & Moneure, who were employed as attorneys for the defendant upon the charge of murder, which crims is alleged to have been committed on the night of cober 4th, 1906, in the said city of Alexandris, and that said firm was employed on employed as attorneys for the defendant upon the charge of murder, which crime is alleged to have been committed on the night of vectober 4th, 1905, in the said city of Alevandria, and that said firm was employed on Friday, October 5th, 1905, to represent the said defendant in the trial of said cause. The the appeared in the Police Court for the defendant on Friday, October 5th, 1906, at the tip preliminary hearing of said cause, and heard the evidence, and took part in the trial at the said preliminary hearing. That on the same day he also appeared at the coroner's inquest which was he'd about 12 o'clock p. m., the case was given to the g and jury, and an indictment found against the defendant. That on Saturday morning, October 6th, 1906, the prisoner was called for trial. That at that time a motion was made that the case be set to be heard in or about 30 days from that date, the reason assigned teing that the deponent was engaged in the said court to be heard on that day, which was afterward adjusted] and that a so he was engaged in the trial of a case which would take place on the following Monday it said court; that he was required, having been duly served in a civil case, to appear at Toledo, Ohio, on Wednesday of the following week, which necessitated his leaving his office on Tuesday morning. That he did attend the taking of testimony in the said case, and returned to his office in Alexandria city, Va., not until Friday morning, October 12th, 1906, at 10 o clock, which was the carliest hour he could return. That he communicated with his partner, R. C. L. Moneure, when the firm was employed in the case, and that they endeavoral together, on Monday night, during a recess of the court in the trial of the case referred to, to secure the necessary evidence and to properly prepare for trial; that the deponent and his associate have both be a greatly hampered in the preparation of this trial by reason of the fact that they were previously engaged in a large number of persons whem he would desire as witnesses, w fendant has associ ted with, and the time allowed by the court previous to this date has not been sufficient, even though neither of the att only were engaged in other nation; for the attorney- to see said with esses, and therefore your deponent fells that if the case is trid of this date, there will be a miscarriage of justice.

The Robbins Shows.

In the Frank A. Robbins & Co., circus, menagerie and hippodrome, which is due in Alexandria on next Saturday, is presenting a gigantic new departure in animal ssociation and training, which may appropriately be labeled "A whole show alone" The credit for this literally colossal idea belongs to Manager Robbins, and it is one the realization of which has required several years of laborious preparation, careful and most expert training and great expense. The present season is signalized by its first public introduction, which involves the ence. In this huge, incongruous assemblage of highly educated and phenomenand furore of fun can neither be imagined nor described. It really looks as if a big section of the promised Millennium had broke loose and got here ahead of time.

Rosenfeld's store on King street. Redwin sold the wheel for $1.50 and subsequently proceeded to the northeastern section of the city for the purpose of disposing of the comforts.

The accused was brought before the Police Court this morning and, after the evidence against him had been given, he was asked if he had anything to say his defense. Redwin arose and told the court that he had every reason to suppose that he was going crazy from the fact that his wife had not been living with him lately. Justice Caton fined him $50 and in addition sentenced him to iail for six months.

Fencing their Property. Mr. Machen, for the defense, asked the The work of building a fence around court for a new trial, on the grounds that the verdict was contrary to the law Company in the southwestern section of tracks and those of the Washington the city was on Saturday afternoon temporarily stopped by the police at the in-stance of City Engineer Dunn to whom complaint had been made by an employe of the railroad. Chief Goods this morning ordered the removal of several feet of the fencing on Henry streat which extends across the building line of Wolfe street. A high fence now surrounds the machine shops, and it is said that the railway company contemplates placing fencing around all their property in the square bounded by Henry, Patrick, Al-tred, Wolfe and Wilkes streets, Fencing is now being erected at the round house. The work of building the fence has been

Close of the Transfer Service. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad transfer service between this city and Shepherd's, on the opposite side of the river, was brought to a close at 6:45 o'clock this morning, the last trip of the barge having been made at that hour, when the whistle of the tugboat Major Brewerton sounded the requium. This service has been in operation for a third of a century, the slips having been constructed and the spur tracks laid in 1878. At first the Southern Railway passenger trains were carried from this city to Shepherd's The barge and tugboat have been used for the transfer of freight trains only.

Death of a Colored Man.

John Bayles, a respected colored resident of Seminary Hill, died suddenly while sitting in a chair in the yard near the intersection of Peyton, Prince, and West streets Saturday afternoon Dr Moore, the coroner, said heart trouble was the probable cause of death. The deceased was about 50 years old, and for many years he was an attendant at the home of the late Rev. Dr. Packard on Seminary Hill.

The Striking Machinists.

There is nothing new to report in the strike of the machinists at the shops of the Southern Railway in this city. was thought on Saturday last that the men now out would resume work today, as it had been stated that a conference between representatives of the union and the railway company would be held on that day at which a satisfactory basis would be reached and the strike brought to a close. The men had been directed to return to work pending this conference, but the machinists concluded to wait until the result of the conference was announced. It is now said that the parties representing the men and the company will meet today. Several of the special officers which were employed by the company for duty at the depot in this city have resigned their positions. The men who relinquished their posi tions are not Alexandrians, but had come here from points on the line of the Manassas branch.

A Warning from the Bench.

When the Police Court was called to order this morning the usual crowd mostly negroes of both sexes) was without the bar. Justice Caton, after glancing at the array of heads, stated that it was the determination of the authorities to enforce the vegrant act, in view of the developments of the past few days, and that all persons not witnesses in the cases before the court must retire. He also said that his action was intended as warning to all indelent and improvident people who, should they fail to procure employment, will be dealt with as the law directs. The would-be spectators then, by the direction of the officers, filed out of court.

The Henry Street Track.

At seven o'clock this morning the watchmen resumed their stations at the watch boxes on Henry street, but up to noon no train's had been run over that street. The street has not been used for the passage of trains for over a year. Workmen were engaged in laying new rails at the Duke street depot and preparing for a resumption of traffic. Southern Railway was made last Wednesday. It is said that all Southern Railway freight trains will pass over Henry street now that the transfer service has been abolished.
